How to Support Libby...

- Be flexible and clear in how you communicate with her
- Give her time to get her thoughts out and be patient. She shuts down if she feels misunderstood beyond repair.
- If she is difficult to understand frame your clarifying questions to give her a hint about how to say it
- She MUST know who the adult in charge is at all times. If that person will be out of her sight she needs to know how long and where they will be.
- Libby is easily frightened but with encouragement will try new things. The best way is for her to see someone else do it first.
- If she is crying give her comfort and offer her a glass of water.
